

Apply to the Learning Assistant Program

- Earn a stipend up to $1500/semester while developing your own skills and understanding
- Meet and work with other students to help them succeed
- Develop skills in leadership, communication, & group facilitation
- Work closely with faculty and staff in your field
- Participate in training sessions with some of the top university research faculty interested in teaching and learning

Learn more about becoming a Learning Assistant with the Rutgers Learning Centers for the 2017 -2018 academic year at <https://rlc.rutgers.edu/student-info/group-and-individual-academic-support/learning-assistant-program>

- Applications for 2017- 2018 are open now. They will be accepted until all positions are filled.
- Group interviews will occur in March and April.

Contact us with questions at learningassistants@echo.rutgers.edu